UPDATE ON WATERFALL RECOMMENDATIONS

Friday 6 November 2009

Minister for Transport David Campbell said the latest report from the Independent Transport Safety and Reliability Regulator (ITSRR), into the implementation of the Waterfall recommendations, was tabled in Parliament today.

Mr Campbell said ITSRR's 19th report showed the number of recommendations that had been closed were 173, out of a total of 177, or 98% of all recommendations.

"ITSRR has advised that of the remaining four recommendations, it is satisfied that an acceptable, alternative response has been put in place," Mr Campbell said.

"Passenger safety is our highest priority and the Government is ensuring that the safety practices in place are well established and tested, and are under continual review to ensure they are at the forefront of world's best practice."
