

Customers travelling to and from Sydney Airport will benefit from more than 200 extra services per week in non-peak times on the T2 Airport Line from late this year in response to a spike in customer demand.

The improvements will be delivered as part of the More Trains, More Services program, which will boost capacity to and from the airport with:

- Trains servicing the Domestic and International Airport stations doubling from four to eight services per hour during the day on weekends – meaning a train, on average, every seven and a half minutes, compared with every 15 minutes today.
- Extra services on weekdays late at night, meaning trains running every 15 minutes instead of every 20–30 minutes today.

More Trains, More Services is a coordinated program that will provide rail customers with more frequent and more express services, delivered by more modern trains and enabled through infrastructure upgrades.

The NSW Government is investing more than $1.5 billion over the next three years on the More Trains, More Services program which will boost capacity through hundreds of extra services, better infrastructure and new trains for Sydney.

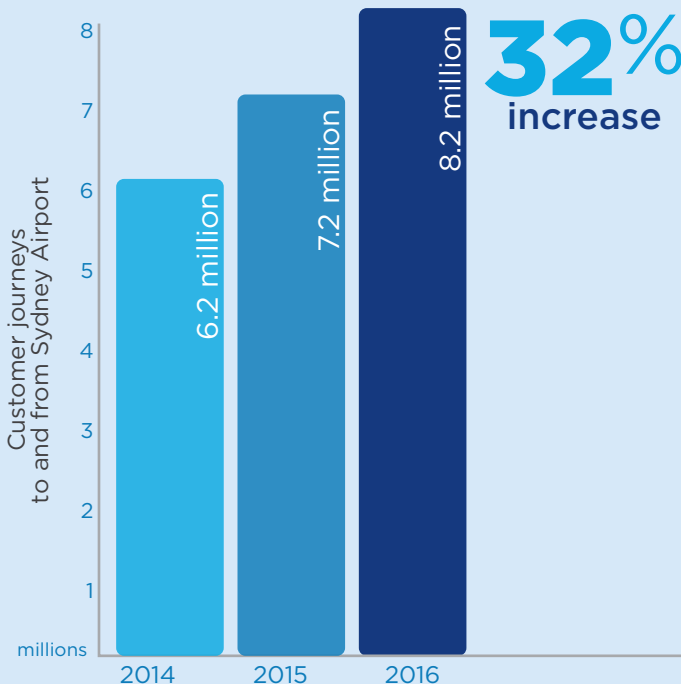

More Trains, More Services is a vital program to accommodate the major surge in customer growth and urgently address the dramatic increases in demand across the existing rail network.

Over the next three years the program will deliver:

- Hundreds of extra services across the network.
- New trains added to the suburban network that will spend less time in maintenance and more time on the tracks.
- Upgraded rail infrastructure allowing our complex network to operate at an even greater capacity, including better signalling systems, power supply upgrades and station improvements.
