

No right turn onto Rabaul Road from Henry Lawson Drive, Georges Hall from Monday 21 February

February 2022

Transport for NSW is upgrading Henry Lawson Drive between Beale Street and just south of Rabaul Road, to ease congestion and improve journey reliability on this key road corridor.

As part of this upgrade, we will permanently ban motorists' turning right onto Rabaul Road from Henry Lawson Drive. This ban will be effective from Monday 21 February 2022.

This is necessary for our work to create the additional southbound through lane on the eastern side of Henry Lawson Drive.

We are implementing this ban early on so the upgrade can be completed as quickly as possible, limiting the impact on the motorists and local community.

How will the right turn ban affect you

The permanent no right turn from Henry Lawson Drive onto Rabaul Road will require motorists to take alternative routes to get to their destination on the eastern side of Henry Lawson Drive.

The alternative routes are via:

- Tower Road, south of Rabaul Road
- Haig Avenue, north of Rabaul Road

Both of these intersections have traffic lights to safely turn right from Henry Lawson Drive.

Our work schedule

The work to put in place the ban includes the installation of concrete barriers and 'No Right Turn' sign on Henry Lawson Drive.

We will be on site for 2 night shifts on Sunday 20 and Monday 21 February, weather permitting. Our night work hours will be between 8pm to 5am the next day.

Traffic and pedestrian path changes

There will be temporary lane closures as we install the concrete barriers, to ensure the safety of road users and workers. There may also be a partial closure of footpath at our work area and alternative path and signs will be in place.

Please allow extra travel time, keep to speed limits and follow signs and traffic controller directions.
