

Project update – Intersection Improvements at Princes Highway and Port Hacking Road, Sylvania

The NSW Government is funding this project as part of its $300 million Gateway to the South Pinch Points program which will improve traffic flow on Sydney's key southern road corridors by upgrading major intersections

Roads and Maritime invited feedback on the proposal in May and June to improve overall the efficiency and traffic flow at the intersection of Princes Highway and Port Hacking Road, Sylvania.

We received feedback from 43 people, with 18 supporting the proposal, 24 not stating a preference and one person who opposed the proposal. The one person who opposed the proposal raised concerns involving:

- the location of bus stops

The 24 people who did not state a preference made comments involving:

- bus stop relocation
- access to and from residential roads
- signal operations
- intersection layout

After considering all responses, along with the proposal's aims and design requirements, we have decided to proceed with the proposal with the following changes:

- investigate possible changes to the operation of the bus stop on the western leg of Princes Highway, outside the Crest Hotel

We have responded directly to questions or concerns raised and thank everyone for considering the proposal and for their feedback.

What happens next?

We are planning to start construction in early-mid 2018.

The work will include:

- widening the westbound side of Princes Highway to increase the length of the three through lanes from 42 metres to 123 metres
 - relocating the bus shelter with a new indented bus bay on Princes Highway eastbound
 - upgrading traffic signals and signs
 - asphaltting and line markings
 - relocating lighting and power poles
 - adjusting existing utilities

We have included a map to show the location of the work.

We will notify you again before work starts to invite feedback on the construction schedule and will continue to update you as the project progresses.
