12.2 Appendix 2 – Spatial and Temporal Attributes of Historical Archaeology Identified During The WBRP Test Excavations

The following tables presents the stratigraphic sequence and adjusted date ranges of all historical archaeological contexts identified during the WBRP historical and Aboriginal test excavations. Tan coloured fields indicate the key historical archaeological structures and deposits containing historical artefacts that are identified in Table 1 and Table 2. Of these, contexts that are considered in situ are indicated with a double asterisk (); those considered disturbed are indicated with a single asterisk (*). Uncoloured records indicate secondary deposition fill or alluvial deposits from which historical artefacts were retrieved for comparative analysis.

According to the methodology outlined in the ARD, archaeological context numbers are assigned throughout the historical test excavations and for Aboriginal test pits with identified historical archaeology. Where no historical archaeology was identified within the Aboriginal test excavations, only the relevant metric spit numbers and stratigraphic descriptions are presented.
