Power Supply Upgrade – Lee Street Substation September 2018

In planning for Tomorrow’s Sydney we are building a new substation at Lee Street, west of Central Station. This project is being delivered as part of the Power Supply Upgrade Program. This program is designed to meet expected power requirements of the future rail network and new fleet of air-conditioned trains.

What we’re doing at Lee Street
This month we will continue to install electrical equipment and commissioning of the new substation.

We will be installing cables on both the new and existing gantries (used to support electrical equipment) within the rail network.

Mobile cranes
Mobile cranes may be used in September to lift general materials and equipment on and off-site.

We will use a smaller crane on a truck to move equipment around site. We may also use a larger crane for moving sheds such as an 80 to 160 tonne mobile slew crane which is a larger crane on a truck.

Work times
Standard construction hours
7am to 6pm Monday to Friday and 8am to 1pm on Saturdays.

Extended work times in September
We will be relocating and upgrading electrical infrastructure from:
• 2am Saturday 8 to 11pm Sunday 9 September
• 2am Saturday 15 to 11pm Sunday 16 September

There will also be some days in September where we will be required to work extended hours to complete electrical works only. This work during the extended hours is not expected to be noisy.

How will this work affect you?
Some of this work may be noisy at times however we will take every step to minimise noise, such as switching off equipment when not in use. Light will be directed away from surrounding streets where possible to minimise impact on the community.
