Kelso to Raglan Upgrade

October 2023

Transport for NSW acknowledges the Traditional Custodians of the lands on which we work and pays respect to Elders past and present.

The NSW Government is investing $73 million to upgrade the Great Western Highway between Kelso and Raglan near Bathurst.

Transport for NSW and our contractors will carry out the work which includes the construction of a centre median and asphaltting and linemarking the entire length of the project.

What work are we doing?

Work will include construction of the centre median between Eugenie Street and Napoleon Street.

We will also commence 24-hour asphaltting works to lay the final layer of asphalt across the entire length of the project.

We have included a map to show the locations of the work.

When and where we'll be working

To construct the centre median, we will be working during the day from Tuesday 31 October and we expect to complete the work in two weeks, weather permitting.

We will be working at various locations between Eugenie Street and Napoleon Street

To complete the final asphalt layer, we will be working 24 hours, seven days a week from Sunday 5 November and we expect to complete the work in two weeks, weather permitting.

The asphalt work plan is (weather permitting):

5 – 8 November – eastern end of the project to PJ Moodie Memorial Drive

8 – 15 November – Ashworth Drive to Napoleon Street

14 – 19 November – Eugenie Street to Napoleon Street

If the work is not completed by 19 November, the work will continue for the following week.
