Redfern North Eveleigh precinct

November 2024

Transport for NSW respectfully acknowledges the Traditional Owners and custodians of the land on which the Redfern North Eveleigh Precinct is situated, the Gadigal of the Eora Nation, and recognises the importance of this place to all Aboriginal people.

The Chief Mechanical Engineer's building (CME) is an iconic heritage structure that sits within the Redfern North Eveleigh precinct.

Project overview

Transport for NSW has engaged a consultant to carry out some internal cleaning of this building followed by air tightness tests.

While the work is being carried out, you may notice people working in and around the building as well as some low level noise to pedestrians walking passed.

Working hours
